Post No. 1

WELCOME TO MY BLOG

Hi there,

I'm Harrison, and this is my very first blog post here at www.storiesformylittlesister.com.

I had so much to say when I first met Samantha and Diana that they thought I should have my very own blog. I am going to try and post every week. As I said, I have LOTS to say. In fact, I have an opinion on just about everything.

The first and most important thing you need to know is that I am a hamster. That's right, a HAMSTER. This means I am not a rabbit, a rat or a mouse, and I am most definitely not a GERBIL.

Diana drew a picture of me for my byline. Here it is again.

As you can see, I am a handsome little fellow. I have long, beautiful white and light brown hair. I have strong little hands and feet. I also have a cute little tail. Wait a minute! You cannot see my tail in the picture. I had better check that my tail is still there!

Phew!!! There it is, right behind me, just as I thought!

I guess the moral of this blog post is that just because you can't see something does not mean it is not there. It could even be right behind you, just like my tail is right behind me.

Well, it's been lovely to meet you, and I know you have loved meeting me (everyone does).

I'll be back with my next post soon.

Bye for now!
